If you have been wondering what Ranch Riding and Ranch Trail looks like, this is the clinic for you! Rosalyn will be taking a group of riders through an introduction and practice of ranch riding and Ranch Trail. The clinic will be open to a limited number of participants, (first-come, first-served) and an unlimited amount of people who just want to watch and learn more about this discipline. The cost for the clinic, (including lunch) will be $40 by October 28th, or $45 after. Auditors will be charged $15.

Roslyn Proffer has been riding horses since age 5 and been training professionally for 25 years; and has ridden and coached clients to many local, state and world championships. She began as an all-around trainer, more recently focusing on Reining and Working Cow Horse which has led to the Ranch Riding and Ranch Trail. With the philosophy every horse has a place in life, we just need to spend time with them to find out what their strengths are and build upon them. The Ranch Riding is a great event for riders and their horses to demonstrate all gaits and several maneuvers without being intimidated by speed or the precision necessary in today's Reining classes. Any horse should be capable of doing the Ranch Riding as long as it is broke to ride.
